SCRIBNER'S NEW BOOKS

PUBLISHED OCTOBER 4th

Through Hidden Shensi

By FRANCIS H. NICHOLS. Profusely illustrated from photographs taken by the author. 8vo, $3.50 net, postage 18 cents.

This important book of travel details the story of a journey, in the autumn of 1901, from Peking to Sian, in the province of Shensi, China, thence southward down the Han River to Hankow. The route lay through the heart of the "Boxers' Country" and across the oldest two provinces of China. It is essentially a story of untravelled roads over which few white men have ever ventured.

New Amsterdam and Its People

Studies Social and Topographical of the Town under Dutch and Early English Rule

By JOHN H. INNES. With maps and plans, and with many views, portraits, etc. Large 8vo, $2.50 net, postage 16 cents.

An exhaustive picture, based upon the original records, public and private, of the actual conditions which prevailed in New Amsterdam before and after the surrender to the English. Every phase of the life of the time is described with painstaking care. The maps, plans, views and portraits are from sources difficult of access.

The Private Soldier Under Washington

An Inland Voyage

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON. With 12 illustrations. 12mo, $1.25.

A new and beautiful edition, from a new setting by De Vinne. The illustrations are from photographs, taken especially for the purpose by James B. Carrington, of scenes along the way mentioned in the text.

Doctor Bryson

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN. 12mo, $1.50.

The very original theme of Mr. Spearman's vigorous novel is the career of an eminent surgeon, interwoven with a love story of unusual intensity and charm. The scene is Chicago and the background of situation and events forms a photographically realistic picture painted with stirring vigor. The book is as vital as it is altogether unconventional in every detail.

The White Wolf

And Other Fireside Tales

By A. T. QUILLER-COUCH ("Q"). 12mo, $1.50.

A volume of characteristic stories.

FICTION

Hope Loring

By LILIAN BELL

AUTHOR OF

"Abroad with the Jimmies," "The Expatriates," etc.

Illustrated by Frank T. Merrill

Hope Loring—wifful, unconventional, lovable—is perhaps the most charming character ever drawn by Miss Bell, and this brilliant sketch of college days, with all their dear delights of football and athletics, of the foibles of fashionable society and the "strenuous" life on Wall Street, cannot but interest and engage the attention of all of Miss Bell's many admirers.

The Last Word

By ALICE MacGOWAN

Fully illustrated

$1.50

An original humorous, fascinating novel—different from anything that has appeared for years and destined—as we honestly expect—to take a high place among the leading books of the holiday season. It is a work which appeals to all classes, for while there is much in it that is really literature, the plot is of such a nature as to commend itself to the general reader as well.

HARPER'S FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

TO BE PUBLISHED OCTOBER 7:

THE INTRUSIONS OF PEGGY. By Anthony Hope.

The advance orders of this new novel have been exceptionally large. It is a story that combines the brightness of the "Dolly Dialogues" with the interest of the "Prisoner of Zenda"—a story of life to-day in London with the adventures and love affairs of a most charming, ingenuous and interesting young woman. The novel will be ranked among Anthony Hope's best work. Illustrated, $1.50.

AN OLD COUNTRY HOUSE. By Richard Le Gallienne.

The story of the plans and ambitions of two young married people in their country home. It is one of the most charming love stories of recent fiction. The volume is handsomely made with illustrations in tint and color by Elizabeth Shippen Green. (In a box.) $2.40 net.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS. By Lewis Carroll.

This delightful story, long since a classic for both old and young, is bound uniformly with the Peter Newell "Alice in Wonderland" published last year. There are forty full-page illustrations by Peter Newell, a frontispiece portrait of the artist, decorative borders in colors. (In a box.) $3 00 net.

TO BE PUBLISHED OCTOBER 14:

IN THE MORNING GLOW. By Roy Rolfe Gilson.

Stories of home life—the relations of the children with father, mother, grandfather, and so on—written in the vein of tenderness, humor and pathos that will make all readers recognize in them a part of their own experience. The stories, with one exception, appeared in Harper's Magazine. Beautifully illustrated by Alice Barber Stephens. $1.25.

AN INTERNATIONAL EPISODE. By Henry James.

A new edition of what many readers consider the best of Henry James's fiction, daintily bound, uniform with the author's "Daisy Miller." Illustrated by McVickar. $1.25.

THE LOVABLE TALES OF JANEY, JOSEY AND JOE. By Gertrude Smith, author of the "Roggie and Reggie Stories."

Delightful stories for children. The subjects are those familiar to all households—tea parties, making cookies, playing circus, stories of the flowers, visits, etc. Fifteen chapters in all, each beautifully illustrated. $1.30 net.

WINSLOW PLAIN. By Sarah P. McLean Greene, author of "Flood Tide," "Vesty of the Basin," etc.

A story of life in New England, full of the same humor and bright optimism that readers enjoyed in the author's "Flood Tide." No work of the author's will be read with keener interest. $1.50.

TO BE PUBLISHED OCTOBER 21:

THE RED HOUSE. By E. Nesbit.

A delightful story of the honeymoon and the funny experience of a young married couple who from "love in a cottage" came into an extensive country estate. It is undoubtedly the author's most attractive work of fiction. Illustrated by Keller. $1.50.

THE REIGN OF QUEEN ANNE. By Justin McCarthy, author of "A History of Our Own Times," etc.

Mr. McCarthy's most recent contribution to his popular histories of England, treating of one of the most brilliant periods in English history—the time of Addison, Swift, Steele, Bolingbroke, and the great Marlborough. The history is in two volumes, uniform with the author's "Reminiscences." 2 vols., cloth (in a box.) $4.00 net.

HARPER'S COOK BOOK ENCYCLOPÆDIA.

This is a book that will come as a boon to every housekeeper. It is arranged like a dictionary, so that you can find anything you want simply by opening the book and without hunting through a maze of indexes. Contributions by the most noted authorities on cooking in the world. Edited by the editor of Harper's Bazar. Bound in washable leather cloth. Illustrated. $1.50 net.

SONGS OF TWO CENTURIES. By Will Carleton, author of "Farm Ballads," "City Ballads," etc.

A new book of poems by one of our most popular verse writers. Fully illustrated. $1.50 net.

A DOFFED CORONET. By the author of "The Martyrdom of an Empress."

A most interesting story of the experiences in court life and in America of the titled author of "The Martyrdom of an Empress" and "The Tribulations of a Princess." Illustrated. $2.25 net.

NEW BOOKS

The most Important Missionary Biography since "John G. Paton"

Erromanga, the Martyr Isle

By the Rev. H. A. ROBERTSON, Erromanga. One volume, crown octavo, cloth, with portrait and many illustrations, $1.50.

The Story of Erromanga is of thrilling interest, rivalling the "Story of John G. Paton," which has gone through so many editions. (23d thousand now ready.)

Excerpt from Editor's Preface: "I have cheerfully given my assistance in preparing this volume in the hope that, along with Dr. John G. Paton's Autobiography, it may help to show how much untold heroism there often is in the conduct of Christian missions, and how much the missionary is the pioneer of civilization and trade."

New Volume by the Author of "Apostolic Optimism"

Brooks by the Traveller's Way

By Rev. J. H. JOWETT, M.A. One volume, 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

The N. Y. Outlook says of Mr. Jowett's new volume, already in 5th thousand, in England: "The present volume entitles him to rank among the best modern Biblical expositors. The practical and ethical character of these expository addresses is as marked as their religious and devotional spirit. While they cover a wide range of thought, their pithy and suggestive utterance commands attention."

By the Author of "Studies of the Portrait of Christ"

The Representative Men of the Bible

By GEORGE MATHESON, D.D., LL.D. One volume, crown octavo, cloth, $1.75.

Dr. Matheson's new volume comes in natural succession to his "Studies of the Portrait of Christ," and should prove equally popular. In "The Representative Men of the Bible" he seeks to portray the men of the Bible who represent phases of humanity irrespective of place and time.

The Death of Christ

By JAMES DENNEY, D.D., author of "Studies in Theology," "Thessalonians," and "2d Corinthians" in "The Expositor's Bible." One volume, crown octavo, cloth, $1.50.

Dr. Denney stands easily in the first rank of modern theologians, and his latest volume will excite widespread interest.

Flood Tide. Sunday Evenings in a City Pulpit

By Rev. G. H. MORRISON. One volume, crown octavo, cloth, $1.50.

"The tone and temper and spirit of the whole are admirably effective for such a presentation of Evangelical religion as shall make it a vital force in modern life."

The Church and the Ministry in the Early Centuries

By THOMAS M. LINDSAY, D.D., Principal of Glasgow College. Being the 18th Series of the Cunningham Lectures. One volume, cloth.

20th THOUSAND

By HARRY LEON WILSON. Six Illustrations by O'NEILL LATHAM.

Price, $1.50

A clear, strong, quick-moving novel. A genuine American story of a family that comes out of the West, with all the West's breeziness, independence, humor, and sturdy democracy,—the cardinal native traits. A really great piece of contemporaneous fiction.

DOROTHY SOUTH

32d THOUSAND

By GEORGE CARY EGGLESTON, Author of "A CAROLINA CAVALIER." Six Illustrations by C. D. WILLIAMS. Price, $1.50.

BOOK NEWS FOR MAY says:

"In 'Dorothy South' Mr. Eggleston has created a simple and beautiful romance, full of nobility and of all the finer emotions, with just a slight scattering of sage but smiling philosophy, intercepted by touches here and there of sparkling wit. No such woman character as Dorothy has appeared in fiction for many a long day."

EAGLE BLOOD

By JAMES CREELMAN, Author of "ON THE GREAT HIGHWAY." Illustrated by ROSE CECIL O'NEILL. Price, $1.50.

This is Mr. Creelman's great novel, although as a brilliant writer he is well known throughout the world. His story introduces an Englishman of noble family, who comes to America for the purpose of making his way, not by a marriage for money, but by commercial opportunities. The work is one of great psychological intensity, full of action, tender in its love motif, and world-interesting in its popular discussion of commercialism.

RICHARD GORDON

By ALEXANDER BLACK. Six Illustrations by ERNEST FUHR.

Price, $1.50

This is one of the strongest novels of the day. The scenes are laid in upper New York society, with a dash into Bohemia that is refreshing and vivid. The hero is manly and virile. The heroine is charming, lovable, thoroughly womanly, and essentially feminine. It sparkles with delicious humor and fetching repartee.

By JULIAN RALPH. Six Illustrations by C. F. UNDERWOOD.

Price, $1.50

A striking story of New York social life among carriage people. It has a charming heroine, who occupies the centre of the stage in some brilliant scenes. It shows that a woman of fashion and an heiress can keep unspoiled her sweetness and sincerity of nature.

NOTES IN SEASON.

L. C. PAGE & Co. have just ready an attractive volume entitled "The Romance of Old New England Rooftrees," by Mary C. Crawford, which forms one of the Little Pilgrimages Series. The volume contains a number of views of prominent New England houses.

THE AMERICAN NEWS COMPANY has made arrangements to publish a paper-covered edition of Edna Lyall's "In spite of All," a romance of Cavalier and Puritan during the English Civil War. It will form No. 31 of The People's Library, which now contains the best selected works of fiction by the most popular authors of the day.

JOHN LANE will publish shortly "The Beautiful Mrs. Moulton," by Nathaniel Stephenson, which depicts the type of successful American business man, and the social evolution of his beautiful and ambitious wife, the heroine of the story. Stephenson is a native of Cincinnati, where he has lived since childhood. His first novel, "They That Took the Sword," was a story of incidents of the Civil War as witnessed in Cincinnati.

THE LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY will publish on the 11th inst. two strong novels—"Eagle Blood," by James Creelman, and "Richard Gordon," by Alexander Black. Mr. Creelman's story is full of incident and excitement and is a clever handling of an international motive. The hero is a titled young Englishman who comes to America, and under an assumed name wins his way to fortune and to the winning of a charming girl; and the deeper suggestion of the story lies in the slow but sure Americanizing of this British peer. Mr. Alexander Black has written by far his strongest piece of fiction in the present volume. It is a bold, even daring, handling of the love motive, yet it is essentially a noble book. The scenes centre in New York and involve pictures of high New York social life, political and art circles. Both volumes are handsomely illustrated.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS publish this week "Through Hidden Shensi," by Francis H. Nichols, an important book of travel in the fall of 1901, from Peking to Siam, in the province of Shensi, thence southward down the Han River to Hankow, a route that lay through the heart of the "Boxers'" country, profusely illustrated from photographs taken by the author: "New Amsterdam and its People," by John H. Innes, an exhaustive picture of life in New York under Dutch and early English rule, based upon original records, with maps and plans and many views, portraits, etc.; "The Private Soldier Under Washington," a straightforward narrative of the daily life of the private soldier who served in the Revolutionary War, based on the journals and diaries of the men themselves and other contemporary documents, by Charles K. Bolton, librarian of the Boston Athenæum, with illustrations; "The Christian Point of View," addresses by Professors Knox, McGiffert and Brown, of the Union Theological Seminary, already fully described by us; "Dr. Bryson," a story by Frank H. Spearman, whose theme is the career of an eminent surgeon, interwoven with a love story of unusual intensity and charm; "The White Wolf and Other Fireside Tales," by A. T. Quiller-Couch, ("Q.,") also, a new edition of Stevenson's "Inland Journey," with illustrations from photographs taken specially for the purpose, by James B. Carrington, of scenes along the way mentioned in the text.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning with the issue of July 5, 1902, the titles of net books published under the rules of the American Publishers' Association are preceded by a double asterisk , and the word net follows the price. The titles of fiction (not net) published under the rules are preceded by a dagger †. Net books not covered by the rules, whether published by members of the American Publishers' Association or not, are preceded by a single asterisk, and the word net follows the price.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. fr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. (4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (2mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); TL. (32mo: 12½ cm.); F. 48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Mrs. Bacon has thoroughly revised her account of the girls and women of Japan, and has made such additions to each chapter as the conditions of this rapidly changing country have made necessary. The illustrations made for this edition lend the book a strikingly oriental air. There are twelve full-page plates in color, and forty-two outline drawings, chiefly the work of Keishu Takenouchi, one of the foremost illustrators of Japan, and a resident of Tokyo. An original Japanese cover design, in gold on silk, adds unity to the decoration of the volume.

Daniel Boone, Sam Houston, David Crockett, William Henry Harrison, and Andrew Jackson—these are some of the men of whom Mr. Brady writes. Their exploits form the most romantic chapters in American history; they themselves stand as the hardest and most picturesque group among the makers of the nation. From Tohopeka in the south to Vincennes and Fort Stephenson in the north; from King's Mountain to the Alamo and San Jacinto, their battles in the wilderness and on the plains mark the decisive steps by which the boundaries of the nation were pushed westward.
- Brady, Cyrus Townsend. In the Wasp's nest: the story of a sea waif in the war of 1812; il. by Rufus F. Zogbaum. N. Y., Scribner, 1902. [S.] c. 9+327 p. D. cl., $1.50 net.
The Wasp was one of the historical fighting ships of the war of 1812; the author follows her career very close to the facts. A little waif found on a French ship taken by the Wasp becomes the hero of the story. The boy finally finds his father, who is an American, and rises to be an officer in our navy.
- Breakspeare, Eustace J. Mozart. N. Y., Dutton, 1902. 10+300 p. D. (Master musicians; ed. by Crowest.) cl., $1.25.
"Of the few noteworthy treatises relating to Mozart and his work that are accessible to the English reader, the most important is far too bulky for ordinary requirements. In this work I have aimed at both interesting and informing the reader; in the first place, by a summary of the great master-musician's life-story, and, next, by some account of his chief and (in their respective classes) varied representative compositions. It has been my care throughout to make the style of treatment as agreeable—and, therefore, as untechnical and non-academic—as possible."—Preface.

Personal impressions of a journey made across Siberia and through Manchuria in the autumn of 1901. Mr. Fraser went to Siberia on a mission of curiosity, with the average Britisher's prejudice against things Russian, and with eyes wide open to see things he might criticise and condemn. While he saw much to condemn (though less than books had led him to expect), he saw something else—that the popular idea about Siberia is altogether wrong. He saw a land capable of immense agricultural possibilities, of great forests and magnificent waterways, that rendered him of Canada and the best parts of western America.

- "Gabriel Tolliver" is intensely personal, and is practically the story of Mr. Harris' own boyhood experiences. In so far as its setting is concerned it is a novel of Reconstruction in the south. It is the most perfect picture in fiction of those disheartening days following the war, when the southern states seemed likely to sink into anarchy through the corruption of the carpet-baggers. In the midst of such conditions, and the quaint, unprogressive life of the little Georgia community, Shady Dale, a beautiful study of boy and girl love is developed and carried to a happy conclusion.

"This little book—the product of the scanty leisure of five years—does not profess to be written in the spirit of cold, rigid impartiality. It expresses the point of view of a frank admirer of John Brown's character and career. At the same time it contains no conscious evasion of difficulties, nor perversion of detrimental facts. Every care has been taken to arrive at the exact facts on disputed points, and to state those facts clearly. As far as the writer knows, nothing but the truth is told, but it is the truth told lovingly."—Preface.

"Racer of Illinois" transfers the activities of "Jack Racer" to a larger and more important field than the little prairie town of the earlier work. With the courage of ignorance and the buoyance of youth Jack ranges himself against a big railroad corporation, choosing the state senate as a suitable arena. There he learns much of politics and other things. The incidents include village "moonshining," a prairie fire, and an incursion into fashionable life in New York.

Aims to refute the belief generally accepted of the position of the Calvinists on infant damnation.

*Stephenson, Nathaniel. The beautiful Mrs. Moulton. N. Y., J: Lane, 1902. [S.] c. 5+326 p. il. O. cl., $1.20 net.

A vain woman and a man whose only object in life has been to accumulate millions fill the leading parts in a novel that has its scene in "that western Babylon, the notorious city of Z." Mr. John Moulton is insanely jealous of his wife, whose chief pleasure is flirting. A third party, a rather unscrupulous young artist, brings about the series of catastrophes which end the novel.

†Stillman, Annie Raymond. Fool's gold: a study in values: a novel. N. Y. and Chic., Revell, 1902. [Ag.] c. 324 p. D. cl., $1.50. A novel introducing scenes in American gold fields. It depicts the conflict between duty and self-interest, contrasting the value of true gold, whether applied to character or to the precious metal, with "Fool's gold," the counterfeit metal, or in the realm of morals, the hypocrite.

*Storm, Hans Theodor Woldsen. Im-mensee; tr. by Bertha M. Schimmelfennig. N. Y., T: Y. Crowell & Co., [1902.] c. 9+46 p. D. (What is worth while ser.) leatherette, 28 c. net.

- †Wells, Herbert G: The sea lady. N. Y., Appleton, [1902.] [S.] c. 4+300 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.
A wildly imaginative story told in sober earnest of a lovely mermaid who came ashore, shamming cramp, at Sandgate, England, to the astonishment of the bathers. She thereupon makes herself at home with the Bunting family, appearing in a bath chair in public, and proves an altogether irresistible young person, even to the extent of winning the affection of a young man already engaged, inasmuch as she is both pretty and entertaining. But having no soul and no morals and having a tail, she eventually returns to the sea, though, however, not alone.
- Whisler, Ernest J. At the postern gate: a farce-comedy in two acts. Phil., Penn Pub. Co., 1902. c. 32 p. S. pap., 15 c.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

OCTOBER 4, 1902.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications. All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of the Publishers' WEEKLY is the material of the "American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

A PUBLISHER'S RIGHT IN HIS BOOKS VINDICATED.

THE suit brought in the New York Supreme Court by I. & M. Ottenheimer, of Baltimore, Md., against the American Publishers' Association has been decided in favor of the American Publishers' Association. The suit was brought to continue the injunction obtained a few weeks ago restraining the American Publishers' Association from keeping the name of the Ottenheimer firm on its List No. 1, through which its members were notified to break off dealings with the firm in question because of its supplying books to undersellers. The case came up for a hearing on September 25, and on the 2d inst. Justice James O'Gorman vacated the injunction on the ground that the American Publishers' Association was acting quite within its rights in refusing to sell its books to any one unwilling to retail them on the conditions imposed by the Association, or to one found supplying an underseller, and as there was "no malicious combination or purpose to injure the plaintiff."

The trade is to be congratulated upon the issue of this suit. Until the opinion of the Supreme Court is reversed, which, for the present, seems very doubtful, those who otherwise might have felt tempted to run the risk of breaking the rules in the hope that the hands of the Publishers' Association might be stayed by injunctions, will no doubt choose the wiser part and deal fairly with those concerned in elevating the morale of bookselling.

BRIGHTSON OBTAINS VERDICT AGAINST CLAFLIN CO.

GEORGE E. BRIGHTSON on September 30 was awarded by a Mineola (L. I.) jury a verdict against the H. B. Claflin Company of New York City for $5,000 breach of contract, and $50,000 damages for loss of salary and commissions and injury to character, because of his discharge from the head of the notion and book department of the defendants.

Mr. Brighton received $500 per month salary while with the Claflin Company, and in addition was allowed 12½ per cent. commission on the net profits of his department. He had been under a written contract until 1900, and on the 1st of January of that year he had made, he claimed, a verbal contract with the firm for another year. In July of that year he went to Chicago to sell books for his firm, and when he returned he found that the book section of his department had been taken away from him, and on August 21 he was discharged by the firm, as Brighton alleged, without cause.

The defense sought to prove that Mr. Brighton was incompetent, and John C. Claflin swore on the witness stand that the plaintiff had been paid a commission on a forty-thousand-dollar sale at the close of the previous year's business, before his [the plaintiff's] discharge, and that the goods were in stock when the inventory was taken and that, therefore, Brighton owed the firm. In rebuttal Mr. Brighton said that this was a sale for future delivery and that he was entitled to the commission and that if he had continued the year with the firm, if the goods remained in stock, it would have been deducted from his commissions and the account balanced.

ONE SIDE PRINTING.

A WRITER in the Inland Printer is advocating the Chinese plan of printing books on one side of the paper only. It is pointed out that no manufacturer has ever yet produced paper alike on both sides, and by adopting the above plan the "right" side would, as a matter of course, only be printed on, and the wrong side left blank.

But it is not so much for the benefit of the printer as of the student and the literary worker that the experiment should be tried. So much work now appears in serial form with the result that a little wheat is mixed up with a great deal of chaff, and to attempt to preserve copies of these serials is an almost impossible task. If they were printed on one side the interesting pages could be extracted and preserved, whilst the rest was thrown away.

For standard works, library editions, or books of reference, one side printing would be a disadvantage, but all books of reference (save those of an ephemeral kind, such as annuals) would have their value vastly enhanced by interleaving throughout with thin writing paper, ruled or unruled. Marginal notes are a disfigurement, and margins are too small for the purpose.

CANADIANS WANT PULP DUTY LOWERED.

CANADIAN exporters of pulp are discussing the possibility of securing removal of the duty on Canadian pulp, which was imposed by the United States Government in virtue of a clause in the Dingley bill providing that whenever any country imposes an export duty on pulpwood the United States shall add that amount to the ordinary duty on wood pulp and pulp hide.

Canadian manufacturers claim that there is no export duty on pulpwood, but they are now calling on the Canadian Government to impose one in retaliation for the action of the United States Government in increasing the dues on Canadian ground wood pulp by 25 cents a ton and on unbleached sulphite and soda pulp by 35 cents.

It is suggested in some quarters that the Ontario Government impose an embargo on nickel, which would close some of the New Jersey refineries. This, however, is not likely to be done.

SIX BEST-SELLING BOOKS—AUGUST-SEPTEMBER.

OBITUARY NOTES.

PROFESSOR CHRISTOPH ERNST LUTHARDT, probably the most noted strictly orthodox theologian in Germany, died at Leipzig, September 22. He was born at Maroldswesach, in lower Franconia, on March 22, 1823. In 1854 he was appointed a professor at Marburg, and in 1856 he became a member of the Theological Faculty of the University of Leipzig, which position he held till his death. His best known works are a "Commentary on St. John's Gospel" and "St. John, the Author of the Fourth Gospel." He also wrote various other books on ethics and theology.

EMILE ZOLA, the novelist, was found dead from asphyxiation in his Paris house on the 29th of September. Zola and his wife spent the summer at Médan and returned to Paris September 28. Owing to a sudden spell of cold weather a heating stove in their bedroom was lighted. The stove seems to have been in poor condition, and Zola, it is assumed, was asphyxiated by fumes from the fire. Mme. Zola was found in an unconscious condition, but was resuscitated. Emile Zola was born in Paris, April 4, 1840. His father was an Italian engineer, employed in France, and his mother a Frenchwoman. The father died when Zola was but seven years old. He was sent to school at Aix, and passed through the Lycée Saint Louis at Paris. Failing to get his bachelor's degree, he then faced the problem of making a living. For years he lived in poverty and wretchedness, until he obtained employment as clerk in the publishing house of Hachette. When Villemasant established L'Evenement he became one of its staff. For a time he wrote criticisms and feuilletons for Figaro. In 1871 he published "Nana," the first of the Rougon-Macquart series, which was followed at regular intervals by the remaining nineteen volumes of the series. In 1894 appeared "Lourdes," the first volume of a new series, a trilogy entitled Les Trois Villes. "Rome" and "Paris" followed in 1896 and 1898. He then began a new series, of which "Fécondité" was the first volume. "Truth" is now appearing, and "Work" and "Justice" are still unpublished. Some of the characters in this new series were carried over from previous series; there is thus a slight continuation, though the basic plan of the new works is different. His greatest literary effort, however—that is, the one by which he will very likely be remembered longer than by any other of his writings—was his letter, "J'accuse," in L'Aurore, which was the means of bringing about the revision of the Dreyfus case and the ultimate release of the unfortunate prisoner.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

CHARLES FELTON PIDGIN, who has for some time been blind, is gradually recovering his sight.

The London Academy hears that Hall Caine, after having dealt in fiction with the Anglican Church and with the Roman Catholic Church, is to publish next year a novel dealing with Nonconformity.

DR. THOMAS E. OSMUN, better known as Alfred Ayres, author of the "Orthoepist," "Verbalist," "Mentor," etc., was stricken with paralysis at his rooms at 218 West Fifteenth Street, New York, on September 29. Very little hope is entertained of his recovery.

HOWARD V. SUTHERLAND, who has edited the Lark Classics Series and Lark Wisdom Series for Godfrey A. S. Wieners, and has contributed introductions to several of the volumes, has just completed a novel treating of the humorous and tragic sides of life in the far north. Mr. Sutherland is the author of "Jacinta" and "Biggs's Bar," both books being in their second edition.

A GERMAN firm has purchased the rights to General De Wet's book on the war in South Africa for $50,000. Pending its acceptance by an English publisher London Truth prints the following squib:

No London publishers have yet
Quite settled matters with De Wet.
Negotiations for his book
They can't decide by hook or crook.
In fact, they much of it condemn,
Because they say it's Dutch to them.
But on one point they dare not fight—
De Wet has got his "Kopje-right!"

"OUIDA," who rivals the London Saturday Review in her contempt for things and persons American, it would seem is a renegade, having been born, according to a woman who claims to be her sister-in-law, of American parents near Natchez, Miss. Her father, a Mr. Gliddon, was a wealthy American planter, her mother a Spanish-American. They had two children—a son, who afterwards became an officer in the Confederate army, and who died a few years ago, and a girl who after her father died, some time in the fifties, removed to England, and has since become famous as "Ouida."

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

THE SOULE ART COMPANY, Boston, Mass., have just completed a "Complete Art Reference Catalogue," listing 150,000 subjects, and covering practically the whole field of reproductions of works of art by photography. Heretofore it was necessary when tracing a picture to consult many catalogues in different languages. This catalogue translates and incorporates the catalogues of the best known foreign publishers, and also includes the reproductions of the most widely-known American publishers, thus making the work international in its comprehensiveness. It gives the names of the artists, dates and places of their birth and death, where their masterpieces are hung, and the size, price and process in which each is reproduced. The book is profusely illustrated, and will be useful to libraries, art museums, schools and to those who sell pictures. ($5.)

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—Richard G. Badger & Co., (Inc.) publishers of books and of Literary Review and New Literary Review, have removed to 8 Beacon Street.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Henry B. Brown, for eighteen years associated with Otto Ulbrich, has established himself in the book and stationery business under the firm name of Henry B. Brown Company, at 496-498 Main Street at the corner of Mohawk. Mr. Brown is wide awake and progressive, and has every qualification that helps to success in business.

CINCINNATI, O.—A new corporation has been organized in this city with a capital stock of about half a million dollars for the manufacture and sale of a patent extensible bookcase. The company have already secured options on factories and also on various tracts of land on which they might erect their plant. The projector of the company is E. G. Schriefer, of the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Schriefer has been identified with book interests for the greater part of his life, having been connected with the Robert Clarke Company for 31 years. The new bookcase is his own invention. It not only provides for the addition of as many cases as are desired, but also includes adjustable shelves throughout the cases, as a result of which there is no waste space.

MURFREESBORO, TENN.—Huggins & Co., booksellers, have been succeeded by Vickers & Smith.

NEW YORK CITY.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy against The Electrical Age Publishing Company has been made by Francis E. Fitch, the Richardson Press, and the Cooper Engraving Company, before Judge Adams, in the United States District Court. The company until February last published The Electrical Age. The creditors have placed the publication of the journal in the hands of a new company.

NEW YORK CITY.—Robert G. Cooke has disposed of his interest in The Grafton Press, 70 Fifth Avenue, and Harry A. Thompson has been elected president to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Cooke's withdrawal.

NEW YORK CITY.—William H. Young & Co., publishers, have removed from 31 to 63 Barclay Street.

RACINE, WIS.—R. L. Bullock, bookseller, has been succeeded by Bullock & Peat.

WABASH, IND.—M. J. Barton, bookseller, has sold out.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Herbert Publishing Company is a new firm of publishers, with headquarters in the Columbian Building. The firm we understand has been established by two women—Miss E. L. Alloway being the senior member.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

The Brandur Magazine, a weekly "periodical of fiction and thought," after three weeks' existence, has been discontinued.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

E. J. GOLDBERRY is at the Broadway Central, New York City, with a full line of the publications of Laird & Lee, of Chicago.

GEORGE W. JACOBS & Co., Philadelphia, will publish on the 18th inst. "Adnah," a tale of the time of Christ, by J. Breckenridge Ellis, author of "Garcilaso," etc.

THE PHILOSOPHER PRESS, Wausau, Wis., have in preparation a limited edition of Dr. Johnson's "History of Rasselas," printed on hand-made paper, with decorations by Frank Hazenplug.

LIFE PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York, have just published "Rhymes and Roundelays from Life," society verses by various authors, and illustrated by Gibson, Gilbert, Herford and others.

J. S. OGILVIE PUBLISHING COMPANY, New York, have nearly ready a novel founded on the Salem witchcraft craze, entitled "With Force and Arms," by Howard R. Garis, a newspaper man of Newark, N. J.

THE HERBERT PUBLISHING COMPANY, Washington, D. C., will publish at once "Charles Killbuck, an Indian's Story of the Border Wars of the American Revolution," by Francis C. Huebner, with illustrations by W. F. Gilmore.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & Co. have just ready Kipling's "Just So Stories for Little Children," one of the most important announcements for young people made in some time. The volume contains a number of characteristic pictures drawn by the author.

FORBES & Co., Boston, will publish shortly "Pickett's Charge, and Other Poems," by Fred Emerson Brooks. The poem that gives the book its name, a masterly epic on the famous Confederate charge at Gettysburg, is one of the best-known of Mr. Brooks's excellent Civil War poems.

MRS. HUMPHRY WARD's dramatization of her novel, "Eleanor," will shortly be produced at a series of matinées at the Court Theatre, London. Marion Terry and Lilian Braithwaite will probably have the parts of Eleanor and Lucy, respectively, and H. B. Terry may play the rôle of Manisty.

HERBERT S. STONE & Co. announce a novel by R. V. Risley, author of "Men's Tragedies," entitled "The Life of a Woman," which relates to the life of the suburbs and the restricted opportunities to a woman of brain and taste; also, "Noll and the Fairies," a book for children, by Hervey White, author of "Differences and Quicksands," with illustrations.

JOHN S. BROOKS & COMPANY have disposed of a large edition of Edwin Day Sibley's story, "Stillman Gott," in Canada, the trade there taking very kindly to the book. The book is selling very well for a first book to be put out by a new author, especially when the fact is taken into account that the publishing house is equally new and unknown to the trade.

EDMUND D. BROOKS, Minneapolis, will publish shortly "Westwind Songs" and "Octaves in an Oxford Garden," two books of verse by Arthur Upson, author of "At the Sign of the Harp." The "Octaves," which present the rare September phase of life in Oxford, is richly decorated and lettered in imitation of mediæval illuminated manuscript by Miss Margarethe E. Heisser.

FLEMING H. REVELL COMPANY will publish this week "The Evolution of a Girl's Ideal," by Clara E. Laughlin, which is highly commended by a number of writers for women and girls. They will publish shortly a child's book entitled "Rollicking Rhymes for Youngsters," by Amos R. Wells, favorably known as a writer for children, and L. J. Bridgman, whose illustrations in "Guess" last year made him famous.

HUTCHINSON & Co., London, have secured from the Duke of Abruzzi the right to publish in English, all over the world, including the United States, his widely announced book entitled "On the Polar Star in the Arctic Sea—1899-1900." It will contain about two hundred illustrations, including twenty-five full-page photogravures, maps and panoramas. William Le Queux, the well-known novelist, will make the translation.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have just ready a volume entitled "Avenues to Health," by Eustace H. Miles, author of "Training of the Body," "History of Rome," "Failures of Vegetarianism" and "How to Prepare Essays, etc.," a well-known athlete, and formerly champion of America's squash tennis. This book contains a table of food values, physical bases, external helps and pure active and strong blood, with a chapter on the avoidance of mental ills.

A. C. McCLURG & Co. have just ready "Birds of the Rockies," by Leander S. Keyser, with eight full-page plates (four in color) by Louis Agassiz Fuertes, many illustrations in the text by Bruce Horsfall, and eight views of localities from photographs. The publishers have made a sumptuous gift-book of this volume, but its scientific and artistic importance will endure far beyond the holiday season. It is the first book to deal specifically with the birds of that region.

THE AMERICAN ARMS PUBLISHING COMPANY, Philadelphia, recently published a work entitled "Camping on the Trail," by Edward S. Farrow, who was for some time assistant instructor of tactics at the United States Military Academy, West Point, and at one time commanded Indian scouts in the Department of the Columbia. The book has chapters on "The Horse," "The Rifle," "Medical and Surgical Hints," "Crossing Rivers," "Indian Character," "The Trail, Signs and Signals," and "Chenook Jargon."

CLARKE CONWELL, of the Elston Press, New Rochelle, N. Y., announces the thirteenth publication to be issued from the press, which will be "Five Arthurian Poems," by William Morris. The appearance of Tennyson's "Idylls of the King" in 1859 made Morris abandon work upon an Arthurian cycle of which "The Defence of Guenevere, and Other Poems" had appeared in 1858 and has been highly praised by Swinburne. The text of 1858 has been followed in the projected volume. There will be 160 copies with initials and decorations by H. M. O'Kane.

DODD, MEAD & CO. have just ready Sir Walter Besant's last complete novel, "No Other Way," a story of life in England many years ago, setting forth the horrors of imprisonment for debt; "The Leaven in a Great City," by Lillian W. Betts, a story showing the advance in social life among the working people of New York; "Fuel of Fire," the story of a curse, by Ellen Thorneycroft Fowler; "A Christmas Greeting," by Marie Correlli with decorative borders printed in green ink; a holiday edition of Hamilton W. Mabie's "Under the Trees;" also "The American Idea as Expounded by American Statesmen," compiled by Joseph B. Gilder, with an introduction by Andrew Carnegie.

LEWIS, SCRIBNER & CO. have just ready "I Will Repay," a story of reparation, by George D. Eldridge, who, while no stranger to literature, is better known as vice-president of a certain life insurance company; "Friars and Filipinos," a Tagalog novel by Dr. Jose Rizal, translated by Frank Ernest Gannett; "The White World," stories of Arctic exploration by members of the Arctic Club of America, including Admiral Schley, Walter Wellman, Dr. F. A. Cook and others, illustrated with reproductions of photographs and paintings; also, "Opportunities in the Colonies and Cuba," a symposium by General Leonard Wood, Governor Taft, Ex-Governor Charles H. Allen, Senor Perfecto Lacoste and M. E. Beall, describing the commercial possibilities for investment and labor in the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico. They will publish on the 15th inst. "Lizette," a story of the Latin Quarter, by Edward Marshall, author of "The Rough Riders."

HARPER & BROTHERS will publish on the 7th inst. "The Intrusions of Peggy," by Anthony Hope, a story of life to-day in London, with the adventures and love affairs of a most charming, ingenuous and interesting young woman, that is said to combine the brightness of the "Dolly Dialogues" with the interest of the "Prisoner of Zenda;" "An Old Country Town," by Richard Le Gallienne, the story of the plans and ambitions of two young married people in their country home; also, "Through the Looking Glass," by Lewis Carroll, with illustrations by Peter Newell, uniform with his edition of "Alice in Wonderland." They have in preparation "On an Irish Jaunting Car Through Donegal and Connemara," an amusing and interesting journey taken by the author, Samuel G. Bayne, and his friends from New York to Londonderry, illustrated from photographs; also, "The Adventures of M. D. Haricot," by J. Storer Clouston, a kind of new "Innocents Abroad," with a Frenchman trying to be an Englishman as its gentle hero, illustrated by Levering.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY have just ready "Alexander Dumas (pere)," by Arthur F. Davidson, who reviews the famous novelist's life and work, and presents a large number of new facts and anecdotal matter, with illustrations; "Home Life Among the Borneo Head Hunters," by Dr. William H. Furness 3d, who lived among these almost unknown people, with illustrations; "The Summits of Success," by James Burnley, who traces the story of the greatest achievements and the careers of the notable men of the times; and three novels—"The Highway of Fate," a fascinating love story, by Rosa Nouchette Carey; "A Blaze of Glory," a story by John Strange Winter; and "The Story of a Scout," a story of adventure on the French and Spanish border during the days of Wellington's campaign, by John Finnemore. They will publish on the 15th inst. Jack London's new novel "A Daughter of the Snows," with illustrations in color, by F. C. Yohn; also Cyrus T. Brady's new story, "Woven with the Ship," with colored frontispiece by Christy, and other illustrations by Christy, Leyendecker, Parkhurst, Glackens and Crawford.

THE publishing business of George Routledge & Sons has been purchased by Swan Sonnenschein and Arthur E. Franklin, who, in conjunction with a few of their private friends, have registered it in the old name as a private company. The directors of the new company are Mr. Franklin, J. Carr Saunders, Sir William Crookes, Mr. Sonnenschein and Laurie Magnus, the general editor of John Murray's educational publications. The last two directors will take an active part in the management. The firm was founded by George Routledge in September, 1836. In October, 1889, shortly after the death of the founder, the business was converted into a liability company, with Mr. Routledge's sons, Colonel Robert W. and Edmund, in active control. In 1897 Colonel Routledge withdrew from the firm and started as a literary agent. He died in July, 1899. His brother Edmund died a month later. Since that time the firm has been conducted by the corporation. For years the firm was one of the most successful in England as well as in this country—its large line of poets and books for young people especially being in great demand. Of late years the firm has been less active.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have now ready most of their holiday juveniles. Among them are "Brenda's Cousin at Radcliffe," by Helen Leah Reed; "The Adventures of Torqua," by Charles F. Holder, a story of two Spanish boys, with scene near San Diego on some islands in the Pacific; "Jack and His Island," a story of the war of 1812, by Lucy M. Thruston; "Polly's Secret," a story of the Kennebec, by Harriet A. Nash; "The Princess Kallisto, and Other Tales of the Fairies," by William Dana Orcutt; "Grandma's Girls," by Helen Morris, telling of girls visiting their grandmother's farm while their parents are in Europe; "A Dornfield Summer," by Mary M. Haley; and "Catherine's Proxy," a story of school-girl life, by Myra Sawyer Hamlin, dealing with very modern American girls and boys. They have also just ready "Tower or Throne," a romance of the girlhood of Elizabeth, by Harriet T. Comstock; "The Struggle for a Continent," edited from the writings of Francis Parkman, by Professor Pelham Edgar, of the University of Toronto; "Miss Belladonna," a social satire, by Caroline Ticknor; and new editions of "Plutarch's Lives," five volumes, and Hamerton's "Intellectual Life;" also, three new juveniles.

ZIMMERMAN'S, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York, has just issued a most attractive child's book, "In Happy Far-Away Land," by Ruth Kimball Gardiner. It is a collection of twelve tales about fairyland, with characters taken from Mother Goose rhymes. Old King Cole is the ruler of this Far-Away country, and his little daughter is Bo-Peep, who loses her sheep because they are frightened away by the gorgeous procession sent to welcome the King and Queen of Hearts as they come to visit Old King Cole. Jack Sprat and his wife, and Dr. Foster of Gloster, Dapple-Gray and Jack and Jill and many other old friends reappear in these skilfully woven tales in a way that will delight any child, who will also be further attracted by the numerous illustrations by Howard Smith. These are both full-page and smaller, and show much artistic ability. Each tale points a moral, but in such an adroit manner as not to repel a child's interest. The book will appeal especially to those parents and teachers who object to the thousand and one cruelties that fill the old-fashioned fairy tales. This publisher has also brought out a dainty little volume entitled "But the Saddest of All is Loving," being a pathetic story of Penobscot Bay, by Mary H. Ewer.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY have just ready "Theology and the Social Consciousness," by Professor Henry Churchill King, written to prove that interest in the vital questions of religion and theology is as strong as it was before men had been awakened to the deep sense of mutual influence and obligation which the author calls "social consciousness." They have in preparation the fourth and final volume of Gen. McCrady's "The History of South Carolina," entitled "In the Revolution, 1780-1783"; "New England and Its Neighbors," by Clifton Johnson, dealing especially with farm life which is illustrated in the artist-author's happiest style; "The Scott Country," by William Shillinglaw Crockett, who has made an important study of the famous Borderland and its undying associations with Sir Walter Scott, illustrated with 162 pictures; and "The Holy Land," illustrated in color from pictures by John Fulleylove and with text by John Kelman. Among the fiction soon to be issued are "Roger Drake: Captain of Industry," by Henry Kitchell Webster, describing the formation of a copper trust; "Bayard's Courier," another story of the Civil War by B. K. Benson; and "The Splendid Idle Forties," stories of old California, by Gertrude Atherton, some of which have already appeared under the title "Before the Gringo Came," but are now illustrated by Harrison Fisher.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS (Henry A. Frowde) has a long list of books in preparation including many texts of versions of the Bible in Hebrew, Coptic Greek, Latin and other languages, works of science and art and dictionaries of rare value on many subjects. In general literature they announce "Shakespeare's Comedies, Histories and Tragedies," a reproduction of the First Folio edition 1623 in the possession of the Duke of Devonshire, with introduction and census of copies by Sidney Lee; "The Mediæval Stage," by E. K. Chambers; volume iv. of "The Complete Works of John Gower," which is the last; "The Complete Works of John Lyly," in three volumes, edited by A. Warwick Bond; volumes v. and vi. of F. Madan's "Summary Catalogue of Bodleian Manuscripts;" and the beginning of volume viii. of the "Oxford English Dictionary" which covers the letter Q and has been prepared by W. A. Craigie, who shows that comparatively few of the words beginning with Q are of English origin. "The Seventeenth Century," by Sir C. Hubert H. Parry, and "The Age of Bach and Handel," by J. A. Fuller Maitland are now added to "The Oxford History of Music," and many valuable works on history and physical science are in active preparation. The Oxford University Press also is preparing a long line of their celebrated "Bibles" and "Prayer and Hymnals" for the approaching holidays. Nearly all of these are now printed on fine white and on Oxford India papers and put up in bindings to suit every taste. They have just ready a series of Oxford Minion octavo self-pronouncing Bibles—Reference, Concordance and Teachers—which considering the amount of matter they contain take rank among the thinnest reference books made.

AUCTION SALES.

BANGS & Co. will shortly offer for sale the library and literary treasures of Richard Henry Stoddard, that are rich with personal associations.

JOHN ANDERSON, JR., New York, will sell in the early fall the collection of the late Peter Gilsey, which is particularly rich in items relating to Lincoln, the Civil War, old New York and American autographs.

THE stock of rare books belonging to the late Gilbert I. Ellis, of New Bond Street, London, will be sold by Messrs. Sotheby, beginning October 28. Mr. Ellis dealt only in choice books, his collection including early English printed books, illuminated manuscripts, and autograph letters. One noteworthy lot is a unique collection of nearly two thousand French illustrated almanacs, comprising more than 300 different publications of dates between 1880 and 1898, bound in 441 volumes. The Americana comprise nearly 100 lots.

OCTOBER 7, 7:30 P.M.—Americana, etc. (305 lots.)—Anderson.

OCTOBER 29-31.—The sale of a library of English classical and other literature, announced for October 8-10, has been postponed until October 29-31.—Bangs.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted" book-trade subscribers are given the privilege of a free advertisement for books out of print, of five nonpareil lines exclusive of address, in any issue except special numbers, to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents a line, and amount should be inclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents a line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents a nonpareil line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents a nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

BOOKS WANTED.

13 In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal exclusively on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

13 Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly" does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

Important Announcement

BRET HARTE

A new book by the late Mr. Harte, entitled "Condensed Novels, New Burlesques," appears to-day. Here, with a freshness and zest that recall his earliest sallies of wit, Mr. Harte makes genial mockery of present-day authors. Under the happily conceived title of "Rupert the Resembling" he travesties Anthony Hope's "Rupert of Hentzau;" in "Golly and the Christian" he ridicules Hall Caine's "Christian;" and in "Dan'l Borem" he has a sly laugh at "David Harum." Kipling also comes in for some amusing parodying in "Stories Three;" Stevenson is the victim of the satirist in "John Longbowe;" and "The Stolen Cigar Case" takes off Conan Doyle's "Sherlock Holmes" very neatly. The book is, in fact, a body of criticism combined with humor. 16mo, $1.25.

The Strongest Master

By HELEN CHOATE PRINCE, author of "The Story of Christine Rochefort," "A Transatlantic Chatelaine," etc. 12mo, $1.50.

The most striking piece of work we have had from Mrs. Prince's hand. With strong characters and a social problem the novel is one to interest many readers.

A STORY FOR BOYS

Under Colonial Colors

By EVERETT T. TOMLINSON, author of "In the Hands of the Redcoats," "A Jersey Boy in the Revolution," etc. Illustrated by CLYDE O. DELAND. Crown 8vo, $1.20 net. Postage 15 cents.

The author has told of Arnold's heroic expedition to Quebec in an interesting story for boys.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

By THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON. In the American Men of Letters Series. With portrait. $1.10 net. Postage 10 cents.

As a friend and neighbor of Longfellow, Mr. Higginson has been able to give the flavor of time and place, and that effect of intimacy which enables the reader to see the man "in his habit as he lived."

The Heart of the Doctor

By MABEL G. FOSTER. With a frontispiece. 12mo, $1.50.

The hero of this romance is a young medical student who finds his work in the North End of Boston, and who loves a daughter of an old Boston family. The story gives a vivid picture of life in the Italian quarter.

Three Little Marys

By NORA ARCHIBALD SMITH, author of "Under the Cactus Flag," etc. Illustrated by A. F. SCHMITT, and with a pictorial cover. Square 12mo, 85 cents net. Postage 8 cents.

THE LITERATURE OF AMERICAN HISTORY

EDITED BY

J. N. LARNED

WITH the editorship of Mr. J. N. Larned, forty scholars and critics, each an acknowledged authority in a particular field of American history, have selected the 4000 works here presented, and given them brief descriptive and critical notes, so that for the first time the literature of American history is charted for the behoof of the reader and student, with frank and impartial criticism of books which do not seem to deserve the acceptance they enjoy. The chief historical societies of America are named, together with their most important issues. The sources of American history are outlined by Mr. Paul Leicester Ford, so that the student may pass directly to first-hand authorities and pursue a special research as far as he pleases. Much of the best biography, many of the most instructive and entertaining works of travel, of ethnological investigation, of scenic and scientific description of America are included. Canada, the West Indies, Central and South America have departments.

Professor Edward Channing, of Harvard University, appends lists for A SCHOOL LIBRARY, A TOWN LIBRARY, A WORKING LIBRARY.

This GUIDE will not become out of date. This autumn will be issued a supplement, edited by Mr. Philip P. Wells, Librarian of the Yale Law School, in which will be offered a selection from the literature of 1900 and 1901, with notes. Thereafter this continuation will appear at intervals to be duly announced. (Terms on application to the Secretary American Library Association Publishing Board, 10½ Beacon Street, Boston, Mass.)

One volume. Royal octavo, cloth, $6.00 net, postage 32 cents; sheep, $7.50; half morocco, gilt top, $9.00.

CIRCULARS?

In estimating the value of a circular letter for advertising purposes the vital question is not "How much do they cost per thousand?"—but—"How many orders or inquiries will be obtained per dollar of total outlay including postage?"

Which way do you figure?

We can duplicate typewriting so closely that your customer will be sure that the letter was personally addressed to him.

Whitaker's Reference Catalogue.

We are now prepared to supply the "Reference Catalogue of Current English Literature," better known, perhaps, as "Whitaker's Reference List."

The work is arranged on the plan of "The Publishers' Trade List Annual," and contains recent lists of 179 of the more important English publishers. An index is prefixed to the lists containing 135,000 references to the books catalogued. It thus forms one of the most complete records of current English books accessible to the bookseller and librarian.

The work is in two volumes of about 5,000 pages, strongly bound in half leather. The price has been fixed at $5.00 net.

As the copies received for the American market are limited, we need hardly remind intending subscribers of the wisdom of placing your order without delay.

The Most Beautiful Child's Book Ever Published

IN HAPPY FAR-AWAY LAND

By Ruth Kimball Gardiner

Illustrated by Howard Smith

A book which will live while children live.
A book which tells of the beauties of Mother-Goose days; not of their terrors.
A book to drive tears and cares from child-land and people it with laughter and joy.
A book to send the young to bed to pretty dreams and not to night-mare peopled with ogres.
A book that will amuse, instruct and govern any child as well as develop its mental faculties.
A book which teaches good by telling of the reward of the virtuous rather than of the punishment of the vicious.
A book whose every story was in the manuscript, read to children and received their unstinted approval and repeated demands for re-reading, before publication.
